

EARLY IN THE SEASON: A BRITISH COLUMBIA JOURNAL

By 1968, Edward Hoagland had successfully published three novels, including the award-winning Cat Man. Looking for material for his next book, he immersed himself in the British Columbia bush for seven weeks, recording his observations and interviews in a series of diaries that became the widely lauded travel book Notes from the Century Before. Early in the Season is an equally riveting account of his return...

Reader's Opinions

This book came across my path in my line of work. Imagining the sights of British Columbia, as they were in June of 1968, and the characters who came to that land before Hoagland, is an easy task when reading his journal. The cast of pioneers and settlers seeking freedom, nature, or even running from the law, is fascinating. This is...
